Thos. Kinsella, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, a well known friend of Tilden and Hancock, ridiculed the cry. Catarrhal [illegible]

Wei De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh, explains the following important facts

1. That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local, and shortly constitutional.

2 That, being constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies

3 That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.

4 That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhoea, Bronchitis, Leucorrhoea and Consumption

5 That Smokes, Douches, Inhalations and Insoluble Snuffs cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named

6 That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous wherever located.

Based upon these plain theories, Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony

STAR MAIL ROUTES

The great increase of that branch of postal expenditure known as star service which has often been noted has been [illegible] criticism. Last winter the second assistant postmaster general Thomas J Brady under whom this branch of the service is conducted was called to account before congress for the great expenditure incurred, which was nearly $1 500 000 in excess of the estimate which had been submitted for it and nearly as much in excess of the appropriation that had been made. But he soon silenced his questioners and critics by showing that the increase complained of had been in all cases in conformity with the recommendations of congressmen themselves. In every instance where the increase appeared he was able to show that it was for extension of service demanded by congressmen and supported by popular petitions. He had so many members on the record that congress was glad to drop the inquiry and let him [illegible] without the censure it had intended. General Brady has just published and sent to the printer his annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30 1880 in which he discusses the increase and offers a statement of the reasons which induced it. The subject is one of wide public interest as it relates chiefly to extension of mail service in the newer parts of the country. Gen Brady's statement shows that the west and south, which get their mails at the expense of the east, certainly have no reason to make complaint.

When the estimates which have been so much exceeded during the past year were submitted they were based on the requirements of the country as impressed upon the department by the experience of former years. They were what Gen Brady calls "hard times estimates," that is, the experience upon which they were based had been that of depression in all branches of business, and consequently an era of the most rigid economy in all directions of public expenditure. But revival of business and extension of traffic about two years ago was attended by an unexampled flow of emigration to the western states and territories. Resumption of specie payments, restoring the confidence of capital and stimulating the enterprise of labor, expanded every industry and as the quickened energies of the people sought new outlets of rapid development in the territories, and particularly in those sections in which precious metals are mined, a large population was brought into the remote and hitherto almost inaccessible regions of the far west. A peculiarity of the mail service is its more intimate relation to the daily life of the individual citizen than is sustained by the operations of any other branch of the government. This is particularly true of the sparsely settled and newly developed regions of the west, where the comparative scarcity and expensiveness of telegraph communication renders business correspondence entirely dependent upon the mails for transmission. The postoffice was therefore the first department of the government to feel the effect of the sudden impetus which resumption gave to the public prosperity and popular enterprise. From every quarter of the west and southwest and much of the south came urgent and incessant demands for increase in facilities and greater celerity in the carriage of the mails. Those demands reached the department in the usual form of petitions from the people and recommendations by their representatives. The files of the department show that at no time since the foundation of the government have so many demands for increase of mail service poured in upon the department in the same space of time as came to hand during the year 1879. To have been governed by the policy of the past and kept within the bounds of the appropriation granted for the year would have denied much clearly needed increase in the efficiency of this service, and appreciating the necessity of keeping pace with the business interests of the country and respecting the reasonable and urgent demands of the people directly concerned it was determined to enter upon a new departure in policy of no less proportions than the assumption by the department of the responsibility of increasing the efficiency and thereby the cost of this service beyond the pro rata limits of the appropriation, trusting to the wisdom and patriotism of congress for relief in the form of a supplemental appropriation at its session next following. The adoption of this policy compelled an appeal to congress for an additional appropriation, which after an exhaustive investigation into the methods of the department, was granted in sufficient sum to meet the requirements of the increased service.

The proceeding was in fact, without authority of law; but Gen Brady had so many senators and representatives committed in writing to the extensions of the service which he had authorized, and the members were so afraid of the displeasure of their constituents should the service be withdrawn, that his acts were all approved. It was, however rather a bold and risky business and would hardly do for a precedent. When the inquiry began, it was even proposed to impeach Gen Brady, but he went before the house postal committee with his statement, and members found themselves in such a dilemma that they thought the shortest and easiest way out was to legalize his transactions.

PLAIN TALK ON THE CHINESE QUESTION

It is about time there should be an end of canting on the Chinese question. There is no need to pretend that the Chinese are a desirable class of population, for that they are not. And yet here in the Pacific states they partly fill a place in our industrial economy which otherwise would not as yet be filled at all. It is encouraging indeed to find here and there a newspaper which is courageous enough to speak out on this subject. The Salt Lake Tribune does it in good style when, in treating of the address of the California sand lot telegraphed east just before the election as an expression of the workingmen of that state, it declares that for any band of men in such a state as California is to-day, to publish to the world that they have been thrown out of employment by a servile and inferior race is a disgrace and shame. And it proceeds to substantiate this by showing that land is cheap in California, that two-thirds of the state is not peopled at all and that though there are about 1 000,000 people in the state, and notwithstanding its soil and climate are all that could be desired, yet the state annually imports immense quantities of the commonest products of the farm,—thus showing that even the ordinary avenues of labor are not yet filled. And the same is true in Oregon. We import bacon, hams, dried fruits, dairy products and even table vegetables, and yet we are told usually by men who themselves never engage in any useful employment, that we are being ruined by Chinese labor. Most of those who do the loudest howling on this subject do not represent workingmen at all. There are two classes of them. The first are those who would not work in any country. Their study is to live as loafers in which they manage in some mysterious and unaccountable way to succeed. The other class is composed of persons who are not fitted to do anything useful in the world except the lowest order of work that requires no skill. If they feel the competition of Chinese labor it is chiefly because they do not fit themselves for employment which would raise them above it. Right here again it is in order to call the attention of parents and teachers to the growing need of preparing the youth of the country of both sexes to do something useful in the world, and to do it well. It is getting so that of the young men who emerge into the world from school and home five out of eight have to begin then to learn how to do something. Of the girls five out of eight never do know anything worth knowing till they take upon themselves the duties of home and of motherhood and then it is too late to learn with advantage and success. There is no end of young men and young women who have no fortunes and [illegible] except [illegible] and their own exertions to depend upon, who nevertheless have not learned to do anything to help themselves and who are past the age when discipline or labor can be made available. All these will drift along in a sorry way in helplessness in the world and never learn anything, till by the time they reach middle age they are ready to sit down in despair and join in the complaint that Chinese are the ruin of the country. People here would like to discharge their Chinese cooks. What would they do if they did? Do their own cooking, for they could not get it done in a decent manner. How many hundreds of housekeepers in this city of Portland have had an ample experience on this point. If every Chinaman on the Pacific coast were driven away to-day the brawlers who want to make the presence of Chinese a party issue would still [illegible] because they will not work and [illegible] decent people who want to employ labor would not have [illegible] them. It is a fact well known [illegible] employers [illegible] who hire Chinese for domestic and other purposes do so chiefly because they can not get as good and skillful service from white persons here as can be had in the eastern states nor at similar prices. The way for our working people to avoid Chinese competition is to do something better than a Chinaman can do it and to live such lives as will gain the confidence of the people who want help and are willing to pay for it. The other day a girl was advertised for in this paper. There was a single applicant. Among other things she was asked if she could make bread. She answered that she had never tried but had seen bread made and thought she might do it if she had some yeast. It is almost needless to say that the bread was a failure. Several other girls were tried in the same place, and now a Chinaman fills it at high wages just because he can do something. The solution of this question is in our working classes themselves.

KELLY DIDN'T DO IT.

It may somewhat ease the pain of the small organists of the democratic party to denounce John Kelly, the Tammany boss, as the cause of the defeat, for human nature always wants to place the blame for failure somewhere, but the fact is the charge that Tammany sold out the democratic party in New York will not bear a moment's examination. The proportional loss of democratic strength in New York was not greater than in the whole tier of great northern states. Pennsylvania gives more than double the majority for Garfield that it gave to Hayes. Ohio, which gave Hayes only 7000, gives Garfield more than 30,000. Indiana, which was carried for Tilden by 5000, goes 10,000 for Garfield. Illinois, which gave Hayes only 19,000 gives Garfield over 40 000. Connecticut which Tilden carried now goes for Garfield by 3000. Massachusetts doubles her republican majority, and Michigan, Minnesota, Kansas and other states do the same thing. New Jersey, which was carried for Tilden by over 12 000, now goes for Hancock by only a few hundreds. Surely John Kelly was not the cause of this tremendous democratic loss in all the northern states. The fact is that the democrats of New York did quite as well as elsewhere. The cause of the party was not meritorious and was therefore a losing one. Great questions decided the contest. The result depended on no tricks devices or expediments, nor on any combination or treachery of local politicians. Democratic losses and republican gains were the rule all over the country except in the Pacific states, where the special causes that made the republican campaign elsewhere so strong were not in noticeable operation.

Notwithstanding all said about the great danger of our country being overrun with "hordes from China," it may be doubted whether the number of Chinese now in the United States is actually much greater than it was ten years ago. The number certainly has not increased more than a few thousand in the last decade and during two or three years it has not increased at all. It was claimed that there were 50,000 in San Francisco alone. But the late census reported only 23,000 in that city, and it may be doubted whether there are more than 75,000 at this moment in the whole United States. The whole number in all the states and territories in 1870 was 63,254 of whom 49,310 were in California, 3152 in Nevada, 3330 in Oregon, 4274 in Idaho and 1949 in Montana.

The following counties give republican majorities: Benton 45, Coos 75, Douglas 154; Polk 54; Yamhill 116; Washington 302, Tillamook 60, Columbia 84, Clackamas 294, Marion 568; Clatsop 120; Multnomah 492. Total 2464. Democratic majorities: Jackson 322, Lake (est.) 150; Josephine (est.) 60, Lane 79, Linn 374; Wasco 205; Umatilla 325; Union 226, Baker 256. Total 1917. Republican majority, 547. In the above Grant and Curry are not estimated, but their vote is more likely to increase the republican majority than to reduce it.

Returns of the election in this state are extremely slow. Little effort has been made to get them, except by THE OREGONIAN. Few of the weekly papers of the state received on Saturday had their county returns, and most of them failed to give the returns even of their own precincts. We have some additional figures this morning. They do not, however make any special change in estimates previously given. The republican majority in the state seems still to be about 500.

General Hancock is reported to be excessively disgusted and as taking no stock in the "fraud" cry. He regards the cry as an attempt on the part of the managers of his late disastrous campaign to cover up their own contemptible meanness and blundering work, through which the election was lost. General Hancock as a soldier will take his orders from President Garfield and help to make it rather hot for the rebels again.

In an article denouncing the Morey forgery the Springfield Republican, whose criticisms of republicans have so often delighted the democratic organs, says: "Periodically the democratic leaders make it particularly hard for a decent man to be a democrat." The causticity of that remark from such a source will strike every reader.

Galusha A Grow who will be remembered as a republican of the olden time one of the champions of freedom in the territories and the father of our homestead land legislation is the man now to be elected to the United States senate from Pennsylvania to succeed Wallace democrat.

Barnum, in trying to get up his fraud issue, is simply making a fool of himself. If he is serious in it he may go far enough to get himself and accomplices into trouble. The American people will hang somebody next time and Barnum would do well to stick a pin there.

The democratic refrain: Alas poor New York!

R J Hendricks Sr of Elk Head, Douglas county committed suicide Friday night the 29th ultimo. Some time during the day he entered a deserted barn lay down upon the floor took his hat for a pillow and placing a revolver at his right temple fired and died evidently without a struggle. He had suffered intensely for several years with pains in the head that his reason became dethroned. Mr Hendricks came to Oregon in 1859. He was a man of upright conduct and a peaceful useful citizen.

Courier: The total vote in Olympia precinct this year is only 321 and in 1878 it was 474. This result is attributable to several causes. Large numbers who have heretofore come to town to vote remained at home; then two years ago at least 50 more loggers voted here than this year; and finally the day was cold and wet and not a few failed to go to the polls.

CITY.

[illegible] HIGHWAYMEN.—On Friday night about [illegible] as the teamster of Mr. D. Johnson, [illegible] of the glue factory near the Red House, was [illegible] home, three men sprang from the brush [illegible] railway, stopped the team and taking [illegible] the driver demanded his money. [illegible] he had none and, having satisfied [illegible] that he told the truth, the highwaymen became so exasperated that they deliberately [illegible] to break up the contents of the wagon, [illegible] of a cooking stove and furniture and [illegible] getting out and gathering valuables, after [illegible] allowed the frightened man to drive on. [illegible] minutes afterward Mr. Johnson obtained [illegible] horseback when the same men sprang out [illegible] him, but their movements frightened his [illegible] which shied and ran. This gave Mr. Johnson [illegible] himself and he turned back and called on [illegible] to come out for he was ready for them, [illegible] did not respond. Mr. Johnson says it [illegible] very dark and he could only see that one [illegible] was a very tall one, and his coat also [illegible] the same difference between the size of the [illegible]. Mr. J. is willing to pay liberally for the [illegible] the men, in order to have them punished [illegible] his property.

[illegible]—A few weeks ago some miserable sneak [illegible] the Congregational Church in Holla[illegible] addition, East Portland, and stole about $60 [illegible] of carpeting. PROF. TAYLOR.—New Market Theater was crowded to overflowing both at matinee Saturday afternoon and in the evening to witness Prof. Taylor and M'lle La Grand in their remarkable feats of magic. A number of new tricks were produced on each occasion. During the evening performance Prof. Taylor gave his justly celebrated bird cage feat. As quick as a flash he caused both the bird and cage to disappear before the very eyes of the audience, and almost as quickly caused both to reappear. At the close of the evening performance a number of handsome and valuable presents were distributed to the lucky holders of tickets. Mr. J. N. Beach was the fortunate man who drew the elegant $30 lounge. This evening Prof. Taylor will give his great Turkish box mystery, together with other new feats of magic. A number of presents will be distributed at the conclusion of the performance. The leading present will be $25 in coin.

THE OPERA COMPANY.—The entire Opera Company left on the steamer Columbia yesterday forenoon, and will probably arrive here to-morrow night. The new opera season will open Friday evening.

RATIFICATION AT HILLSBORO.

HILLSBORO, Ore., Nov. [illegible]

One of the most enthusiastic jollifications ever witnessed in Washington county was gotten up by the republicans last night. A grand cavalry torchlight procession, illuminations, speeches, and fireworks were the order of the evening.

At six o'clock P. M. about 100 horsemen with torches, followed by several carriages, took up the line of march from Hillsboro for Forest Grove, passing through Cornelius. They were met just outside the limits of Forest Grove by the [illegible] and Garfield cadets on horseback, together with a number of citizens in carriages all bearing torches. Flags and mottoes were plentifully interspersed. [illegible] escorted the procession through Forest Grove, which was brilliantly illuminated, headed by the Forest Grove brass band who were mostly democrats, [illegible] on hearing the enthusiastic cheers for President Garfield dropped off until the music was drowned. At 9 o'clock the procession returned to Hillsboro and marched through the entire town, which was thoroughly lit up—in almost every private republican residence, to the court house, which was one solid blaze of light from basement to attic.

From the first appearance of the procession until their arrival at the public square in Hillsboro on the return, the anvils were kept busy amid the deafening cheering of the large and enthusiastic crowds that thronged the streets.

After a few speeches and a great deal of cheering the Forest Grove boys headed for home, singing [illegible] of their [illegible].

Taken altogether it was one of the best displays ever got up in Washington county.

INCIDENTS.

Two or three democratic hoodlums [illegible] themselves conspicuous by [illegible] in Hillsboro by getting out in front of the crowds of spectators while the procession was passing and using such language as ought not to be tolerated in any community, and it is with pleasure that I can announce that respectable democrats are as earnest in their denunciation of such conduct as the republicans. Our democratic town marshal, clothed with that [illegible] the [illegible] of a [illegible], was nowhere visible last night when needed.

RIP [illegible].

CELEBRATING AT ASTORIA.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

ASTORIA, Nov. 7.—The republicans of this city had a grand celebration last night over the national victory of Tuesday. A torchlight procession was formed under the marshalship of Hon. I. W. Case and marched through the principal streets amid great enthusiasm. Nearly every store and dwelling in the city was brilliantly illuminated. A salute of victory was fired from two cannon which were left by Napoleon on the retreat from Moscow in 1812. The guns were presented to the Russian-American government at Alaska, transferred to the United States with the territory, and brought to Astoria by Capt. J. W. White, of the U. S. revenue marine. The procession wound up at Liberty Hall where a number of speeches were made.

MR. BLACKFORD's SHARK STORY.

Do the Young of that Interesting Fish Frequent the Stomach of their Mother?

[From the New York World.]

Mr. E. G. Blackford, of Fulton Market, has a curious story to tell of a female shark caught by a fisherman off Great Neck, L. I. a short time ago. The shark was very large and remarkably fat, looking as though she had just gorged herself. The fisherman brought her to Mr. Blackford, who bought her to put on exhibition. Noticing the peculiar size of the fish Mr. Blackford told the fisherman to cut her open, and if anything extraordinary was found to let him know. "I did not stay to see the operation," said Mr. Blackford, "but I returned within a half hour and the astonished fisherman pointed to ten young sharks, each twenty-four inches long. He said he had taken them from the stomach of the old one, but the viscera had been thrown away and, unfortunately, I could not verify his account. It is certain that the young sharks were found upon opening the old one. A Coney Island show proprietor happened to come along at the time and I sold the old shark and the young ones to him—a thoughtless act on my part, for an investigation into the condition of the young ones might have settled one or two scientific points now mooted. One is this: Are sharks viviparous—that is, giving birth to their young alive, or oviparous—depositing eggs like other fish? The other question is, do the young sharks in case of danger seek shelter in the stomach of their mothers, returning to the water when notified that all is quiet? Now, if the fisherman was not mistaken when he said he took the young sharks from the stomach of the old one, the mother's stomach is a place of refuge. The fisherman's account is strengthened by the fact that the eyes of the young sharks were open and they seemed perfect in all respects. Their stomachs seemed to be distended with food, and I regret that I did not make sure on this point. I wrote, describing the case, to Professor Walker, of the Cornell University, and he replied that probably the fisherman was mistaken in saying that the young sharks were in the stomach of the old one. In his opinion some varieties of sharks are viviparous, and not only so, but their progeny starts in the water perfectly developed and not only ready to capture and kill their own food, but to take pretty good care of themselves in case of danger."

The War in Africa.

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 7.—On the 31st of October the stronghold of the Basuto chief Motelane was successfully stormed by Col. Clarke's forces. During this operation 5000 Basutos attacked the colonial detachment holding Chief Lerothodist's village, and before reinforcements could arrive a small body of them were surrounded on all sides and five killed. The enemy advanced in great numbers, compelling the colonists to retreat, but in an orderly manner. The colonists relinquish their position. The Tembus are now in open rebellion. Reinforcements are being sent to all important points.

THE BONANZA MINES.

It is an open secret that unless new discoveries of ore are made in these mines that their working will have to be abandoned, and then the question arises whether more money has been taken from them than has been put in. THE WHITMAN MONUMENT.

The following letter from Rev. J. H. Hopkins, D. D., of Williamsport, Pa., relates to the Whitman monument. It may be stated that the plan submitted by Dr. Hopkins has been adopted, and drawings thereof have been prepared, and will soon be received and ready for inspection.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Sept. 22, 1880.

W. H. Gray, Esq.—Dear Sir: [illegible] very interesting letter and circulars were duly received, and [illegible] with [illegible] History [illegible] arrived. I thank you heartily for them, and I have been deeply interested in its contents.

I send you a sketch for a monument for those [illegible] martyrs and their leader. As they died for an [illegible], and a pure form of christianity, the [illegible] of an upright cross, the symbol of the Christian faith. But it is not that [illegible] of the cross which modern Rome always uses. What I send you is the old Celtic cross, common in Ireland and Scotland, [illegible] in the ancient ages before Romanism was introduced. The circle which embraces the arms of the cross signifies the crown, and the circle [illegible] the arms of the cross, just as the hope of the crown hereafter helps us to endure the cross here on earth. The four [illegible] round holes that [illegible] the cross are [illegible] straight through the whole thickness of the stone. The four little solid circles left adhering to the [illegible] of these four holes, represent the four nails with which our Lord was nailed to the cross. The Celtic [illegible] making them four [illegible], which is [illegible] what Roman tradition makes them three, on the idea that the feet were pierced by the same nail. The shield [illegible] the lower part of the shaft bears the [illegible] with the words [illegible] "Thy word, O God, endureth forever." The panel should be sunk about [illegible] for three [illegible] would be better, and on the opposite face of the shaft a similar panel [illegible] represented accurately as it [illegible] the American eagle and shield of the United States, showing that Whitman and his companions died that Oregon might be American also. Where the wings of the eagle project beyond the panel the outline is simply cut with deep solid lines on the surface of the shaft and that is all.

As to the dimensions. The entire height is thirty-three feet, as Oregon was the thirty-third state of the Union, the twenty-first admitted after the original thirteen. The upper stone is one third of [illegible] feet of the entire height. The breadth of the arms is seven feet, in allusion to the seven gifts of the Holy Spirit. The base on which the inscription is placed is eleven feet wide, one third of the height. The lowest step projects two feet beyond it on every side, and is two feet in height or fifteen feet square. It is half of this fifteen [illegible] seven feet six inches from the ground to the foot of the shaft of the cross. In the upper arm of the cross, on the line s—b (side elevation), the stone is three feet square. The shaft, descending from the crown circle, expands equally all round, till the foot of it is six feet square. I have made possible divisions into separate stones, making the work easier to handle, and they might be made smaller yet, if thought needful. The little figure of a man standing is just six feet high, and gives a good idea of the proportion.

The material should be granite, as light in tint as it can be gotten, and only rough hammered. The corners (except points) should all be decidedly rounded, increasing the massiveness of effect, and diminishing the danger of being marred by chips or breaks. The lettering should be deeply incised, and no block letters should be used.

The proposed plan of a statue is not good. If only life-size or ordinary heroic size (eight feet high) it would be too small for the site and extent of country to be commanded. If the statue were to be colossal, it would be exceedingly expensive, and would require first rate sculptor's art. My plan can be executed by any stone cutter. You had better have it made on the spot, of Oregon granite, if you can. It would be best, of course, if the whole work could be made of only three separate stones; one for the lower step, 15x15x2; one for the inscription, 11x11x5 feet 6 inches, and one for the cross, 6x6 at the base and 3x7 at the cross-arm, and 25 feet 6 inches long. But if this be impracticable, the cross may be in two pieces, the upper 11 feet long, the lower 14 feet 6 inches, or this lower may be divided into two, the upper being 7 feet long, and the lower 7 feet 6 inches. These two are marked as divided each by an upright joint; but they had better not be. They had better each be one solid piece. The base, with inscription, may be in two pieces, each 11x11, two feet nine inches or six pieces as shown in the side elevation, the middle stone be jointed in the middle of the monument. The bottom step may be in four stones, or six if preferred.

Hoping that my work may be of some use to you, and asking that, if not accepted, it may be returned me by mail, I am, dear sir, your obedient servant,

J. H. HOPKINS.

ACTION OF THE PIONEER AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

ASTORIA, Nov. 5, 1880.

The executive board of the Pioneer and Historical society met at the office of Capt. J. H. D. Gray.

Members present—J. H. D. Gray, vice president, in the chair; W. H. Gray, A. Van Dusen, E. C. Holden and S. T. McKean.

The corresponding secretary presented a communication from Rev. J. H. Hopkins, D. D., of Williamsport, Pa., with a design for monument, which was read and after due consideration was on motion unanimously approved and adopted by the board, and the corresponding secretary was instructed to extend the thanks of this society to Dr. Hopkins for the same.

As there has been some difference of opinion in regard to where the proposed monument should be located, some claiming that it should be at Walla Walla, instead of, on the ground where the massacre occurred. It was unanimously

Resolved, That it is the sentiment of this board that the proper place for the monument is at the scene of the massacre on the ground donated to this society for that purpose and already partially improved by this society.

The corresponding secretary presented a large number of communications which were read and placed on file.

MONDAY MORNING NOV. 8, 1880.

OREGON PACIFIC R. R. CO.

[illegible] In default of such payment, the subscription and all rights thereunder will thereby be forfeited, and the bonds subscribed for may be sold to others.

Payments on account of subscriptions will be made to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company as follows: [illegible] per cent. on or before November 25, 1880, and the remainder in five equal monthly installments, beginning January 20, 1881. In case the entire $1,250 for a shell be subscribed for, the first payment will be thirty per cent. and the remainder in seven equal monthly installments. Interest will be allowed at six per cent. per annum on all installments. A discount of three per cent. will be allowed on all bonds paid for in full at the time the first installment becomes due. The Trust Company will issue negotiable certificates of deposits and rights.

An allotment of the non-assessable, full paid capital stock of the Railroad Company to the amount of $300 with each $1000 bond, will be made to the subscribers for the first $1,500,000 of the bonds, in the order of the receipt of subscriptions, and the allotted stock will be issued on the making of the final payment for bonds.

The most prudent and conservative provisions have been made in the interest of the purchasers of these bonds, to insure the faithful application of the proceeds of sales. The forms of the mortgage or trust deed and of the bonds were prepared by Messrs. Turner, Lee & McClure, counsellors at law, of No. 20 Nassau street, in this city, in conformity to the laws of Oregon. Great pains have been taken in the preparation of all documents relating to the charter and organization of the railroad companies, and in the several corporate acts of the companies connected with the execution, recording and delivery of the mortgage and the issue of the bonds.

After a most careful investigation of the charter and property of the company, we confidently recommend these bonds as a safe investment, and, from information now before us, we believe the stock of the company will, on the opening of the line from Yaquina Bay to Corvallis and Albany, become at once productive.

Accompanying will be found blank subscription lists in duplicate, to be filled up and signed by persons wishing to become subscribers, the original to be forwarded to this office, and the duplicate to be retained by the subscriber.

JOHN C. SHORT, Pres't.

A Review of the Above.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

The circular of the "Oregon Pacific Company" states that the mortgage covers "all its railroad, road bed, rights of way, depots, shops, tools, machinery, rolling stock, its steamships, steamboats, ferry boats, barges, and other water craft." The simple truth is that the "Oregon Pacific" possesses no railroads, no road bed, no depots, no shops, no rolling stock, no ferry boats, barges, or other water craft.

The prospectus itself says that "the first and one of the chief objects of the Oregon Pacific Railroad Company is to aid the Willamette Valley and Coast Railroad Company in the completion of its road" taking a mortgage from the latter company to secure its own mortgage to its own bondholders.

The Willamette Valley and Coast Railroad Company thus becomes the first object of interest to an investor in the bonds of the Oregon Pacific Railroad Company. Now, all the property that this company owns consists, in the first place, of ten miles of roadway and iron rails for the same, with little equipments, beginning at the town of Corvallis, and running nowhere. The cash outlay for what they have acquired cannot have exceeded $75,000.

In addition to this the Willamette Valley and Coast Railroad Company has a grant from the state of Oregon of tide and marsh lands around Yaquina bay. This property has at this moment absolutely no market value at all, nor will it ever have any considerable value no matter how many railroads are built to it.

It is worthy of notice that the parties owning and controlling the Willamette Valley & Coast Railroad Company are substantially the same parties that incorporated the Oregon Pacific Railroad Company, and that by the terms of the circular the first proceeds of bond sales are to be used for the purpose of reimbursing the Willamette Valley & Coast Railroad Company a portion of its outlay—in other words, to buy a piece of property that its owners have vainly attempted to sell to persons acquainted with its value.

The prospectus further sets forth that the mortgage is to cover "the land grant and all other real estate" of the Oregon Pacific Company, which said land grant is represented to embrace over 900,000 acres. This language will naturally lead the unwary to suppose that the Oregon Pacific Company has been granted some lands by the United States or the state government or some other public authority.

Now the fact is that the Oregon Pacific has no land grant from any such source, but that the parties who are the corporators of the Oregon Pacific and the owners of the Willamette Valley and Coast Railroad, or some of them are or have been also the owners of the lands comprised in the alleged land grant, and that if the Oregon Pacific now possesses any lands they must have been conveyed to it by the parties mentioned.

The value of these lands will appear from the following facts: Some time ago a grant of public lands was made by congress to the state, to aid in the construction of military wagon roads from Corvallis to the Yaquina bay and from Albany over the Cascade range to the eastern boundary of the state of Oregon. The grant for the former road comprised something over 96,000 acres; that for the latter road about 800,000 acres. T. E. Hogg, the leading spirit in the Oregon Pacific as well as in the Willamette valley and coast railroad, and associates, obtained control of these grants some time since and have been vainly endeavoring to make something out of them so far, and this for the reason that the bulk of these lands represents a mountainous and mostly unsurveyed wilderness not susceptible of cultivation.

The Oregon Central and Oregon and California railroads are holding direct congressional grants of better situated lands to the amount of many millions of acres, but have found their lands almost unsalable for the same reasons.

It is understood that Mr. Hogg and associates paid only 25 cents an acre for 96,000 acres for the first mentioned land grant purchased by them, and a lump sum of only $130,000 for 800,000 acres of the last mentioned grant. An estimate of the present value of the former at $40,000 and of the latter at $150,000 would be very liberal.

Under the circumstances it would be further interesting to know how much the said parties will receive out of the proceeds of the sale of the $3,250,000 of bonds in order that the Oregon Pacific may become the happy owner of these lands.

The prospectus is accompanied by a map showing the vast system of railroad and water lines described in the articles of incorporation. As far as the lines appearing thereon in brilliant colors, and extending from Albany across the Cascades range, are concerned, they are for all practical purposes precisely as valuable as if drawn at random on a blank sheet of paper.

It is believed that neither the Oregon Pacific nor the Willamette Valley & Coast Railroad have ever spent one dollar for surveys over the Cascades to any part of Eastern Oregon. Whether a railroad can be built through them at all is an engineering problem still awaiting solution; and yet the prospectus has the assurance to call this problematical route "the only economical and profitable eastern route." Moreover almost the whole country to the east of the Cascades range through which the Oregon Pacific lines run on the map is as yet uninhabited and affords no more promise of business than the great sage brush plains did twenty years ago.

Just as trustworthy as its other statements are the assertions of the prospectus as to the necessity for and the expected profitableness of the "coast division" of the Oregon Pacific from Albany and Corvallis to Yaquina Bay, into which the projected ten miles of the Willamette Valley and Coast Railroad are to be developed out of the proceeds of the Oregon Pacific bonds. According to them the "coast division" immediately upon the completion of the line from Albany to Yaquina Bay will carry into and out of [illegible] an average number of [illegible] through passengers and [illegible] tons through freight [illegible] from San Francisco. As these figures are [illegible] of the [illegible] traffic between [illegible] and California, they must be pronounced grossly extravagant if not positively [illegible]. For, in the first place not only [illegible] passengers, but not half of that number have traveled in any one year so far between [illegible] and [illegible] and secondly the [illegible] inward and outward freight business of [illegible] Oregon in any one year has [illegible] tons.

But the [illegible] of the statements of the Oregon Pacific prospectus in the [illegible] that every passenger and every ton of freight from [illegible] will pass over the projected "coast division," contrary to the established flow of [illegible] of Oregon from north to south and south to north, regardless [illegible] of the controlling powers of the existing transportation [illegible] the Willamette Valley [illegible] the freight and passengers [illegible] in Western Oregon [illegible].

The Willamette valley [illegible] Oregon Pacific [illegible] during the greater part of the year [illegible] first San Francisco [illegible] rates from Portland [illegible] during the present shipping season.

But the steamboat competition is trivial [illegible] seen will experience [illegible] built and now being built.

There are two standard gauge railroads, viz the Oregon & California and Western Oregon Railroad in operation, one extending on the right bank of the Willamette and [illegible] Albany and Portland, and the other [illegible] bank of that river from Corvallis [illegible]. The Oregon & California also extends [illegible] 117 miles to [illegible] draining the whole of western [illegible] south to north. The coast division of the Oregon Pacific will cross these roads at two points at which it cannot possibly expect to take anything away from them and this at competitive rates.

Nor is this all. In addition to these two standard gauge railroads already draining the greater part of the Willamette valley on both banks, there is now being developed by the Scotch company a system of narrow gauge railroads, also on both banks of the Willamette, a large portion of which is already built, and which will be to a great extent in direct competition with the aforesaid standard gauge roads, and which will certainly take whatever freight and passenger business is not now directly reached by the other railroads. Like the standard gauge roads, the narrow gauge system will drain everything in the direction of Portland.

In fact, instead of taking the whole passenger and freight business, every one familiar with the transportation systems already existing in western Oregon knows that it will be absolutely impossible for the Oregon Pacific coast division to obtain more than an insignificant fraction of it at competitive rates, and that it will certainly not take enough of it to pay the interest on the proposed issue of $3,250,000 of bonds.

Independent of the momentum given to traffic in a northward direction by the course of the Willamette river, and the existing four railroads within the limits of its valley, the proposed undertaking of the Oregon Pacific will also supply the necessity of overcoming the controlling influence of the city of Portland, the commercial emporium of the whole state, where all the large banks and all the leading commercial firms in every branch of trade are concentrated. Every bushel of wheat and other products growing in the state is bought and sold and shipped by Portland merchants.

The prospectus speaks of Yaquina Bay as "the only central, adequate and available harbor," meaning probably, though not saying it, on the whole Oregon coast. The impudence of this statement is only equalled by that of the others already commented upon. The real truth is that only coastwise sailing craft of the lightest draft can enter Yaquina bay, the entrance of which shows only nine feet depth at low and sixteen feet at high water, according to the surveys of the U. S. engineers. Only a few weeks ago the bark Mary S. Ames, of fourteen feet draft, engaged to take a load of lumber from Yaquina bay. Owing to the danger of the entrance into Yaquina bay, her insurance was immediately canceled by the underwriters, and no tug could be found willing to take her in.

During the last session of congress strong efforts were made to get an appropriation of $250,000 for the improvement of the entrance to the bay. On March 12th last a resolution passed the senate requiring the secretary of war to submit all data in possession of the department of engineers respecting the entrance to Yaquina bay. In response to this resolution, the secretary communicated to the senate on April 12th a report from Lieut. Col. C. S. Stewart, U. S. engineers, senior member of the board of engineers for the Pacific coast, which report states that the obstruction to the harbor is a dangerous reef, thinly covered with shifting sands, and that "an artificial channel excavated from deep water inside to deep water outside would not, in the opinion of the board, with the data before it, remove permanently the obstruction to the entrance."

Notwithstanding this positive warning of the most competent authority, the political exigencies of the presidential campaign enabled the parties mentioned to obtain an appropriation of $40,000.

Ten years ago $7,000,000 of European capital was obtained on a fraudulent basis for railroad construction in Oregon. The inevitable collapse followed in 1872, and injured the general credit of Oregon to such an extent that it took years to dispel the distrust created by it in all Oregon enterprises.

To sum up, the "Oregon Pacific" has no property at all, and will not have any, except such as the promoters of the scheme will saddle, as owners of the Willamette Valley and Coast Railroad, and of the military road grants, upon the Oregon Pacific, at their own figures, to be paid for out of the proceeds of the bonds, and what further properties may be created out of the same source.

My interest in this matter is simply the interest I feel as a citizen of Oregon in preventing misleading statements from going about without contradiction, to do injury in future to legitimate enterprises in our state.

The arrival of an increased number of ships at San Francisco and reports of others on the way has caused some decline in freights, and as a consequence a slight appreciation in the price of wheat. The tonnage supply appears to be better all round, and at New York the decline in rates is quite marked, but vessels do not like to head for San Francisco on a falling market at the latter place. At this point the vessels on the berth are filling up quite rapidly, but arrivals are few and ship owners and agents are slow to accede to the offers for those at hand which are disengaged.

The growing demand for wheat noticed two days ago continues, and the necessities of shippers, in some instances, have induced them to pay an advance of 1@2½ cents per cental on current quotations, which are $1 45 per cental.

The stock of flour on hand here is not excessive, and dealers have managed to sustain prices at a living figure. Quotations have not changed for some weeks and are steady now.

Choice oats are in good demand for both milling and feed purposes at 40@45c per bushel with some few sales of extra white at 45c a figure rather above the market.

Apples are rather in excess of the requirements of the trade and except for best keepers prices are down.

Eggs scarce and wanted at 35c per dozen.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The freight market via Cape Horn does not evince much activity, and in fact it remains rather dull. However it is expected now that the political excitement is over, and that as that vessel has been put on the berth, that there will be more lively times, resulting from competition for such freight as is offered. Rates of freight remain unchanged and for the time being are firm.

Tonnage is more plenty than for a long time past and owners who were rather anxious to accept California business have been deterred by the decline in grain freights. Still, in the absence of other business they will probably accept this.

The ship C. C. Chapman will probably finish on the 13th, and will be followed by the L. Schepp, which vessel will be followed in turn by the Big Bonanza. All these vessels are chartered, and it is said the lay days of the latter have expired.

The [illegible] is to berth for Portland. One half of the cargo will be railroad iron.

such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

[illegible] FOR SALE.

LANDS,

PEN D'OREILLE DIVISION

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

Is now offering for sale nearly

5,000,000

Acres of its lands in the Pen d'Oreille Division in Eastern Washington, which are comprised in the odd numbered sections for forty miles on each side of the railroad as now located from the mouth of Snake River, in Washington Territory, to Lake Pen d'Oreille, in Idaho. These lands of unexcelled fertility, and adapted to farming on any scale that may be desired, are offered by the Railroad Company at such prices and terms as cannot fail to induce settlement and cultivation, causing a rapid growth in population of the country, and increase in value to those who now purchase.

The following Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company, passed November 19th, 1879, fixes the cash price of land to actual settlers at two dollars and sixty cents per acre, which it is believed is a lower price than has ever been voluntarily placed upon its lands by any land grant company. This is in fact, cheaper than the settler can purchase the same class of land of the Government under the pre-emption law, for the expense attending the making of final proof, and the journey to the land office which he must necessarily make in order to complete his entry, is more than the ten cents per acre added to the government price by the Railroad Company:

"Resolved, That the Agricultural Lands of the Company west of the Missouri river to Puget Sound shall be offered for sale to actual settlers at Government price of $2 50 per acre, with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre to be paid to the Company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting, surveying and conveying said land.

"This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands, nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for town sites or suitable for manufacturing sites, nor in regions where water is scarce to lands containing springs or other natural supply, where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large that such water privileges shall not be exclusively held or controlled by any individual, nor to the lands required for the use of the Company in connection with the operation of the road."

To persons wishing to purchase on time, the remarkably low price of four dollars per acre is given on the following terms: One fourth cash at time of purchase, the balance in four equal yearly payments at 7 per cent. interest. The above price for these sales is adopted for the present, but may be subject to change in the future.

All persons who have filed with the Railroad Company notices of intention to purchase or "Settlers' Applications," as they are called, for land in this division (except for the class of lands reserved by the terms of the resolution above given) and who have continued to reside upon or cultivate the land applied for, are requested to complete their purchase by making cash payment, or time contract, for the same. For this purpose application should be made to the Railroad Land Office at Colfax.

Persons who have not made actual settlement or improvements upon land they may have applied for have no right to the first privilege of purchase; such lands will be sold to the first applicant. Those persons who have in good faith settled upon and improved the Company's land should lose no time in securing the same, as after a given time the land is subject to sale to any other person.

The land in this division being now offered for sale no more "Settlers' Applications" will be filed.

MIDDLE AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.

The "Herald" on Democratic Tricks—The Vote on the Pacific Coast

New York, Nov 8.—The New York Herald commenting on the democratic proposition to throw out a large number of republican votes in this state because they were illegally printed, says it is too much like a democratic trick for smuggling into the ballot boxes through the hands of unsuspecting republicans irregular Garfield votes in hope that they might be rejected by the canvassers.

In the same paper the Pacific vote is put down in the forged Morey letter. The [illegible] is a surprise to both sides. The democrats never really claimed the Pacific states and under ordinary circumstances the republicans should have held them in this canvass. Garfield stooped to bid for the anti-Chinese vote and the Kearney crowd which Hancock [illegible] his credit did not do. The Morey letter did not unseat California. It was so handled over the telegraph wires as we see by reading California papers as to be an advertisement for Garfield and to give him votes. There was not a voter in California who did not believe it to be a wretched degrading forgery. What hurt Garfield was the business depression on the coast. California is recovering from gambling speculation and has not felt the business impulse of the east. It wanted a change.

A Democratic Journal Declares its Party Functus Officio.

Madison, Wis., Nov 8.—The Democrat, which has been bitterly partisan all through the campaign comes out in an editorial arguing for the disbanding of the democratic party in the west. It says The democracy has only elected 38 out of 150 congressmen in the north and only carry New Jersey for Hancock by 1500 majority and Nevada by 300, and that out of 10 northern states they have not elected a single representative. The north is solidly republican and the south democratic, and the northern democracy has performed its duty to the country and has nothing more to offer, no other party duty to perform.

About John Kelly.

Chicago, Nov 8.—The Tribune's New York [illegible] If a secret vote were to be taken Tammany would dethrone Kelly from leadership with an alacrity that would astonish him. Though few would have temerity to openly vote to depose him all would rejoice if he were deposed.

More about John Kelly.

The Tribune's Washington special says John Kelly appears alarmed by the report that he is endeavoring to keep the presidential question open and to silence rumors to that effect, notably one according to which he is reported to have advised democrats to decline to pay bets on Garfield's election. He has sent the following telegram here

New York, Nov 5

To George C. Wedderbury, Editor Gazette—Rumors have no foundation in fact. JOHN KELLY

Kelly says the Tildenites are "Another."

New York, Nov 8.—Kelly's organ charge the Sun and other supporters of Tilden with stabbing Hancock and the fact that the counties where Tilden's most trusted friends have control the change of votes from the democratic to the republican side was very heavy is pointed out to sustain the charges. Kings county for example where Tilden's friend Boss McLaughlin rules, shows a greater democratic loss than any other county except New York. Smith M Weed, one of the favorite co-partners of Tilden did not prevent a heavy loss in Clinton county nor did Tilden himself prevent a loss of over 2000 in Westchester. Many other illustrations are given Kansas Official.

Topeka, Nov 8.—Official returns from 33 counties give Garfield a plurality of 32,002, and a majority of 24,278, St. John republican candidate for governor has a plurality in these counties of 25,047 and a majority of 17,734. St. John runs behind the state ticket about 6000. The prohibition amendment to the constitution will have about 10,000 majority in the state

California's Returns.

Official returns of the state are coming in this evening but cannot be obtained from three or four remote counties until Thursday. Thirty-four counties out of fifty-two show net republican gains over previous figures of 35 votes. There is considerable difference between the vote for different electors, and with the general result so close it is quite possible that a divided ticket may prove to be elected. Terry was steadily behind and is beaten beyond question

Official Canvass.

San Francisco, Nov 8.—The board of election commissioners are making official canvass of the city to-day. Thus far a number of discrepancies have been found but none that materially effect the result. It will probably be a three days job

Two Republican Congressmen in Arkansas.

Memphis, Nov 8.—Latest returns indicate the election of Johnson colored republican in the 1st Arkansas district to congress by 1000 majority over Poindexter Dunn democrat. Johnson is a barber, and his candidacy was announced but one week before the election

Not Much in that State.

Chicago, Nov 8.—The Inter Ocean's special from Little Rock says there is not much probability of Arkansas congressional districts going republican, and the statement in a Memphis press dispatch that Dunn democrat was defeated in the 1st is probably a mistake

The Old Dominion.

Richmond, Nov 8.—Interior counties show unexpected and surprising results. Four years ago the democrats carried the election by 50,000 majority this year little if any over 10,000. All but seven counties give the democratic electors 84,000 readjusters, 20,000 republicans 72,000. Jorgensen's [illegible] majority is nearly 5000. Deshendorf rep is elected, and Paul and Fulkerson, readjusters, are elected and claimed by republicans as gains. Besides one or two regular [illegible] will be contested by adjusters

Ineligible to Office

Memphis, Nov 8.—It is discovered Robt McKenna, elected to the legislature is ineligible having been convicted of incest for marrying his wife's grand daughter. He was pardoned but never restored to citizenship and being disqualified the certificate has been given to W. B. Winslow, his democratic opponent. This change may possibly determine the selection of U. S. senator, as the legislature was very [illegible]

New York, Nov 8.—At a meeting of the alumni of Williams College in and about New York to-night [illegible] presiding the following resolution was passed and committee appointed to carry it into effect

Resolved That the alumni of Williams College in New York and vicinity, irrespective of party, tender congratulations to General Garfield on his election, and invite him to meet them at the dinner at any time he may name

The Ohio Senatorship

Cleveland, Nov 8.—The Herald publishes a letter from Secretary Sherman to Hon J M Dalzell in which the secretary announces himself a candidate for senator from Ohio subject to the wish of the legislature. He concludes. I do not know what is the desire of Gen Garfield, but I can see that my election might relieve him from embarrassment and free to do as he thinks best in the formation of his cabinet. Again thanking you for your kind offer I am yours truly JOHN SHERMAN

A Waterhaul.

Indianapolis, Nov 8.—A drag net thrown out over the state by the democratic state central committee to catch violation of the election law at the October election has not brought to the surface many cases and so far none of them are of much satisfaction to the managers. Washington, Nov 8.—Personal friends of Gen Garfield say he will not again take his seat in the house of representatives but will in a few days resign both it and his prospective membership of the senate. His successor in the house who will of course be a republican may be elected upon ten days [illegible] It is believed here that Secretary Sherman although he could doubtless be at the head of the treasury department under President Garfield if he wished, will re-enter the senate as [illegible] Garfield and that [illegible] of Ohio will be given a cabinet position [illegible] probably the secretaryship of the interior [illegible] friend of Arthur [illegible] Justice Hunt [illegible] George Francis Dawson of California formerly [illegible] and present treasurer [illegible] is announced as a candidate for the position of sergeant-at-arms of the next house of representatives [illegible] the members [illegible] a member of the senate [illegible]

Reports of fraud in the election held in this city and Brooklyn on the 2d of November are such that if the fraud is reported are established the electoral vote of this state will be cast for Hancock and English. Steps for thorough investigation are now being considered. Meantime we hand herewith a blank form of protest which you will please execute varied in substance according to circumstances and hand into the county canvassers as early this week as possible not later than Thursday the 11th inst. The form of the protest is as follows.

The undersigned hereby protests against the allowance of the vote cast for presidential electors at the election held November 2 1880 at (name of place as canvassed) and returned by the board of county canvassers of said county for the reasons that (state facts in detail.) We would respectfully request that this protest may be attached to the return of such vote that we may be considered to have by silence acquiesced in these acts

Message to the French Chamber.

New York, Nov 8.—A special to the Telegram from London says the following is the substance of a speech to be read by Ferry to the French chamber of deputies at the opening to-morrow. The expulsion of unauthorized congregations has been successfully carried out and the government recommends to members the adoption of a system of gratuitous and compulsory primary education. With regard to laws on association they are so long that they will not be laid before the chamber this session. New laws for the regulation of the press will also be urged upon the representative bodies, but so long as the old form of legislation exists it will be rigidly adhered to. The construction of the Rhone canal is especially recommended to the consideration of the representative bodies. Insurgents Still in Arms.

There are still some small parties of insurgents roving around. It is thought it would be folly for the government to raise the state of siege where the insurrection still exists and while there is a considerable number of criminals, and the inefficiency and corruption of the civil tribunal the whole island ought to be placed under state of siege

Talleyrand and Milton.

(From Temple Bar.)

When Talleyrand, a young bishop but a very old sinner found France too hot to hold him during the second period of the revolution he fled to England and having adequate introductions was befriended by Bentham. Thence he went to the United States and as soon as order or at least safety to all including himself, was restored in France he returned home, made himself useful and rose to great secular dignities having been, as he avowed when charged with political perfidy consistently faithful to the constitution and every dynasty as long as it could maintain itself. Many years afterwards he visited England in an official capacity and called on Bentham who was then a very old man. GARFIELD AND THE CHINESE

His Real Sentiments, as Expressed to a Cleveland Reporter.

[Cleveland Special to Cincinnati Commercial.]

General Garfield's positive denial of the letter regarding the Chinese, which it is asserted he wrote to H. L. Morey, of the Employers' Union, Lynn, Mass., January 23, 1880, is not in the slightest degree questioned by those who have conversed with him on the subject of the Chinese within a few years past. William F. Swift, city editor of the Cleveland Leader, states that he twice heard him express views contrary to the ideas given in the Morey letter, and while calling on General Garfield at his Mentor farm and before his nomination the following interview respecting coolie labor occurred

Mr Swift wrote the matter out and the same day published it, and preserved the article in his scrap-book

What is your opinion, general, in reference to the Chinese question?"

I have a great deal of sympathy with the people of California and the other Pacific states in reference to this subject but it was a mistake on the part of some congressmen to confound the emigration of the regular Chinese to this country with the advent of coolies who may be brought under contract and, perhaps as slaves. We have a right to reject all slaves. There are laws to prevent their importation to the United States as in old times. The laws can be made to apply to the coolies just as stringently or better still to obtain the end in view of preventing the introduction of coolie labor to the disadvantage of the working classes of this country. We might make a treaty with China with which it would be understood that slaves or coolies were not to be landed on our shore. But to say that any well behaved law abiding person should be kept away when desirous of coming of his own free will aside from the coolie system would be hard, and contrary to the intention of our institutions"

Will a bill of the character you indicate be apt to pass?"

A bill in some modified form may be presented and if in proper shape relative to the coolies, we the republicans in congress will be willing to help its passing and the president will concur in it, otherwise, not"

While we may not wonder that it should [illegible] such as by forgery we confess to all the astonishment that with so many [illegible] cultivated criminals in its ranks it should have selected for the perpetration of this last imposture a person who is evidently a new beginner in this kind of devilment. BEET SUGAR IN CALIFORNIA.

Its Composition and Purity.

BY REV G H ATKINSON

To the Editor of The Oregonian.

The enclosed samples of cube and crushed loaf sugar in looks and taste seem like refined cane sugar in the same forms. They are exactly the same elements of carbon hydrogen and oxygen measure for measure. If any taste [illegible] remains, it is due to lack [illegible] refining or defecating process. In the samples five of us tested it, and perceived nothing but the pure sugar. The proof is not [illegible] like the pudding in the eating. The chemist may find traces of the cellular tissue of the beet in these clean, white sparkling cubes and granules. But the chemist can find traces of the cellular tissue of the cane in [illegible] cubes and crushed grains. Yet the sugar as formed by each plant and deposited in its cells are the same thing. They are identical

Buyers are apt to think that sugar from beets must taste of beets, and thus be a lower grade and unfit for common use. It is like new [illegible] on true principles, which must prove their quality. Last year the Standard Sugar Company could not sell all their product, as the president, O F Giffin, informs me. This year they use 70 tons of beets per day and their orders outrun their supplies. Last year the usual prejudice barred the sale. This year the opposition has given way and the sale [illegible] Col J McCrakon who welcomes and encourages new enterprises had some of this sugar last year, but Mr Giffin has been too much hurried to send him even samples this year

THE PER CENT EXTRACTED FROM BEETS.

All persons must keep in mind that the sugar manufacturer or refiner never makes or creates the sugar by his process as the manufacturer of cloth never makes the wool. He only handles it, or as we say manipulates it. The manufacturer of cane sugar finds it in the cane and brings it out, or extracts it.

My article in "The West Shore" in Nov or Dec 1879 gave the four processes briefly and stated that the process of diffusion had the value of being simple natural and of the least cost and the largest saving. The Standard Sugar Company at Alvarado adopt this process and find it a success. It is simply to wash out the syrup deposited in the beet cell, and then defecate it or remove all foreign matter that has been carried along into the receiving vats and then refine it completely for the market. The makers of maple sugar know that clean sap and clean, covered kettles to evaporate the water give them the best and purest sugar. The rawness and blackness of maple sugar is due to foreign matter left mingled with the pure sap which the tree made. The discredit in such case attaches to the manufacturer and not to the sugar itself, as the discredit of many goods belongs to the manufacturer and not to the materials

It will be seen at once that of two modes of sugar making from cane or beets or sorghum that which grinds or crushes the cells makes the mash which ferments quickly and [illegible] requires the lime as quickly to stop the fermentation. In the beats of Louisiana this mash coming from the mill, ferments in twenty four minutes, and all the cell walls, being crushed between their powerful rollers make a great amount of mash which must be promptly saturated all through with lime to arrest the ferment. It is the crushed cell wall matter which ferments. Pure sugar itself never ferments if its water is evaporated

In the process of diffusion the cell walls are cut and not broken, and the saccharine sap washed out with pure water. Sugar cane yields net about 12 per cent to the manufacturer, but cane in those warm climates makes a larger per cent in the cells than beets in our cooler climate. About 18 per cent is the average in cane as it is in my memory. The crushed cells lose or hold about 40 per cent of this sap as the books report. Beets are cut in thin ribbons and laid in vats with water which takes up the sap. This is drawn off and more water poured or forced through the mass and drawn off until the sweetness is exhausted. Some lime is used to prevent the ferment and this of course with other matter must be removed or [illegible] as the term is used and the water evaporated. By this process the Standard Sugar Company realize 8 per cent of refined beet sugar even now. Only 10 per cent is lost by diffusion. With perfected methods they may carry this per cent up a little more. They pay the farmer $4 per ton for beets delivered

SUGAR BEET SEED AND ITS SOIL.

The imperial seed from Germany is used. It is the best and is costly as Mr G says. Some other kinds are good. Those who please to try will find by books and by experiments here what to use. Hill soils are best as they are for potatoes. Swampy or irrigated lands are not good. The analysis of beets is of ash 0.80 [illegible] potash 53.1, soda 14.8, magnesia, 5.1, lime 4.6, oxide of iron 0.8, phosphoric acid 9.6, sulphuric acid 3.3, silica [illegible] 3.3, chlorine [illegible] The analysis of potatoes is of ash 0.9, potash 59.8, soda 1.6, magnesia 4.5, lime 2.3, oxide of iron 0.5, phosphoric acid 13.1, sulphuric acid 6.1, silicic acid 2.3, chlorine 2.3

The farmer who raises good potatoes in the hills or drained lands of eastern or western Oregon or Washington will see that he can raise good beets and the manufacturer can see that [illegible] can help the farmer to supply the home market with sugar and have [illegible] margin for export.

The white [illegible] is the sugar beet as most persons know. The sugar beet belongs to the temperate zone as the sugar cane belongs to the tropics.

[illegible] the soils furnish the elements of the [illegible] Hence [illegible] that Prof R H Warren will be en[illegible] industrial facts in his laboratory [illegible] thoroughly.

Farmers will find [illegible] crop for change or rotation [illegible] of more annual value than wheat.

Better "Measure" It First.

[From the Evening Telegram.]

Tony seems ambitious of martyrdom. He wants to get up a rebellion, perish on the scaffold and so hand down his name to the ages with that of the youth who fired the Ephesian dome and other great characters. Should he really succeed in his ambition to get hung nothing in his life would become him like the manner of his leaving it. As Barnum's lieutenant Tony is expected to take the field soon with his troops to contest the election. He will even rank Gen Brown of Albany. But oughtn't they as well as their hands together and measure the job before they begin it?

FROM ASTORIA.

The Republican Jollification—A Young Rascal—Shipping Notes

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

Astoria, Nov [illegible] 1880

[illegible] the political campaign the scarcity of grain ships, our harbor and the setting in of the prevailing winter season westerly winds with their usual accompaniment of fog rain and Oregon mist has had the effect of throwing a damper over our city lately and we look for dull times from now till Christmas. The jubilant republican voters [illegible] the dull monotony Saturday evening with a grand torchlight procession and general illumination intended as an emphatic ratification of the action of the majority of American citizens who declared on last Tuesday that Gen James A Garfield should be the next president of these United States. Public buildings hotels stores offices and scores of private residences were brilliantly illuminated and in justice as well as with pleasure we add that some of our most prominent democratic citizens gracefully succumbed to the inevitable and as evidence of their good sense and patriotic intention to abide by the will of the majority of the American people they too illuminated their places of business. The procession with 400 torch bearers 50 banners with various significant and appropriate devices and mottoes accompanied by two brass bands was by far the largest, longest and most enthusiastic that ever marched through the streets of this city. In the business thoroughfares red white and blue lights were burned at intervals and the windows and sidewalks were crowded with spectators composed principally of the fair sex. After marching through all the streets of the city the procession entered Liberty Hall where a few short speeches were made by Hon I W Case, president of the Garfield and Arthur Club and others, after which the crowd quietly dispersed and thus peaceably and creditably ended the closing scenes of the presidential election of 1880 in Astoria.

A citizen of Astoria Capt J W White U S R M, rejoices in the possession of two brass 41 pounders. Each has on it in raised figures 1779. They were brought from Alaska by Gen. Rousseau's party in 1867 and tradition says they once belonged to the army of the great Napoleon, were abandoned on the retreat from Moscow and afterwards conveyed to Russian America. Though centenarians they are still in good working order and managed by Mr W. L. McCabe who fired guns for Uncle Sam on board ship during the war in Mobile bay, rousing salutes were fired from them while the procession was on the march

After the excitement of the evening had subsided and our citizens congratulating themselves that no accident had occurred from the handling of so much combustible material, wearied with their exertions, were courting tired nature's sweet restorer—balmy sleep about 1 A M they were aroused by the startling tones of the town fire bell. The alarm was promptly responded to by our firemen but being insufficiently manned when started our Amoskeag came near being ditched and capsized. The alarm, however proved a false one started by an apparently incorrigible hoodlum boy known as Joe Fox, who had climbed up on the inside of the bell tower and tapped the bell with the clapper. There he was discovered by Officer Gindes, who conveyed him to the city jail where he still remains awaiting, no doubt, a punishment to the full extent of the law which he richly deserves

All the vessels lately detained at Baker's bay have safely crossed the bar and put to sea. The only ships in our harbor are the Red Cross and Ulloch. Both have completed cargo. A Glasgow ship the Loch Awe Capt Nicol, from Lyttleton N Z, Sept. 4th is outside with pilot on board

The Shubrick takes on buoys to-morrow from the buoy depot and will place them in the channel near Sand Island

Thanks for Gettysburg.

[Washington special to Chicago Tribune.]

The democrats, referring to the dispatch that six months after the battle of Gettysburg congress voted thanks to Meade, Hooker and Howard, not seeming to know of Hancock says that subsequently Hancock received the thanks of congress. An examination of the record shows that the resolution thanking Meade was passed six months after the battle, when there had been ample time to decide to whom belonged the chief credit of the victory. Gen Hancock's name was not mentioned, while the name of Gen Howard was proposed by Senator Grimes on the ground that he selected the ground on which the battle was fought—a claim which Mr Forney's biography of Gen Hancock makes for him and tries at great length to substantiate. Two years after this resolution was adopted an additional resolution of thanks to Gen Hancock was approved.

NOT QUITE EFFETE

[illegible] and wealth as the world at large makes similar [illegible]. Statistics just published illustrate the [illegible] growth in a remarkable degree. It is shown that during the last ten years the population of the United Kingdom has increased 11 per cent, and this notwithstanding an emigration from the country during the decade which foots up a total of 1,650,000. Our income has increased 13 per cent; wealth 30 per cent; schools 192 per cent; railways ratified 45 per cent; shipping 13 per cent; textile manufactures [illegible] per cent, and minerals 45 per cent. As [illegible] of the growth of public wealth it [illegible] the income tax valuation which is now £ [illegible],000,000 higher than ten years ago. During [illegible] the number of paupers has decreased [illegible] per cent, a fact also highly favorable [illegible] industry of the nation. Another sign of [illegible] general amelioration of the condition of the masses is furnished by the extraordinary increase of educational facilities. There are now 2,980,000 children in the schools of the United Kingdom, against 1,383,000 ten years ago. Only one branch of the national wealth or industry shows a decline, and this branch is agriculture. American competition has had much to do with bringing this about. But it is a result which is concentrating more and more of the national energies on commerce and manufactures, in which the United Kingdom stands preeminently above all other nations. The London Times says "Summing up the condition of the United Kingdom at present as compared with ten years ago, we have every reason to be proud of the progress we have made. If we had only increased in wealth, manufactures, commerce, and public instruction in the same ratio as the number of inhabitants—namely 11 per cent—we should present to the world a very favorable balance sheet of our affairs in the past decade. But it is manifest that we have grown in prosperity much more than in population, and every succeeding decade, in spite of an occasional crisis or reverse, sees Great Britain richer, wiser and happier, thanks to the industry and civic virtues of her people." We have in America windy and ignorant orators who talk about Great Britain as an "effete" nation. If they were capable of learning and judgment, they might profitably study up the subject and revise their opinions.

THE REAL OBJECTION.

Before the main facts of the recent political campaign pass out of sight it is as well to make a plain statement of the views of republicans in regard to the "solid south." It should be stated and understood that the republicans, in dwelling on this topic, were not antagonistic so much to the solid south in itself as to the means by which that solidity was established and maintained. Nobody complains that Kentucky and Missouri are democratic. But when Mississippi, Alabama and South Carolina, states which have voted republican year after year, are made to go democratic because republicans dare not hold political meetings or can't get their votes fairly counted, the case is altered. In those states the republican vote almost disappeared five years ago, and the country well knows why and how. Fort Pillow Chalmers is now again counted in as representative of a heavily republican district in Mississippi, and the electoral votes of not less than half a dozen southern states which would be decidedly republican on a fair ballot are secured by most criminal methods for the democratic candidates. When any state goes against the republican party on a fair vote that party makes no complaint. It has no right to make any. Its complaint about a "solid south" has been based wholly on the fact that the south has been made solid through force, fraud, violence and crime. Local divisions among the democrats have indeed helped the republicans this time to a few members of congress in the southern states, but no electoral vote has been permitted to go that way. Many would doubtless have been cast had it been known that there was no chance to make this organized, fraudulent solid south control the presidential election. Let us say again that it is not the fact that the south was solid, but the methods by which it was made solid, that formed the ground of republican protest and attack. We are all sick of the southern question. Let us hope now that it is forever laid. But it depends wholly on the south itself to decide that matter.

THE FRENCH REPUBLIC AND THE JESUITS.

Our dispatches continue to be loaded with accounts of the differences between the government of France and the Jesuits of that country. They are scarcely intelligible to the general reader from want of specific information as to the grounds on which the government bases its action against this noted order. The quarrel of the French government with the Jesuits is in reality about two centuries old. The basis of it is the apprehension of danger entertained by the government as likely to arise from establishment through secret methods of a power in the state greater than the state itself. Under all forms of government which France has employed, proceedings against the Jesuits have been considered necessary, and the measures of repression employed heretofore have often been far more severe than those which the government of the republic is pursuing now. The groundwork of these proceedings against this order in France may be said to have been created by the celebrated "Provincial Letters" of Pascal, first published in 1656. Though the letters were condemned by the holy see and their circulation for a time prohibited by government, nevertheless they may be said to have been the origin of that hostile feeling which long afterwards brought about the expulsion of the society of Jesus from France. A multitude of other writers, after the revolution had opened the way to free expression of opinion, took up the subject, and a vast literature is saturated with this hostility to the society and devoted adroitly to increasing the popular feeling against it. Among other notable books written chiefly for this object may be mentioned Eugene Sue's "Wandering Jew." It will be seen therefore that the present government of France is only continuing towards this society the old policy of repression which seems to be sanctioned by the public opinion of the country.

On this subject the International Review for the current month furnishes an article which gives details in explanation of the particular course now being pursued by the French government. The basis of it is an order from the minister of public instruction forbidding any kind of instruction by the members of unauthorized religious congregations. This was followed by two decrees, one declaring all houses of the society of Jesus dissolved, and the other giving notice to other unacknowledged congregations that they must become recognized by asking authorization of the proper authorities. This policy is an old one in France and is based on the principle that the civil authority has special interest in preventing the multiplication of religious bodies beyond its control, which become a possible power in the state since they absorb the individuals who compose them. It is to be observed [illegible] the relations of church and state [illegible] are very different in France from [illegible] with which we are acquainted here. [illegible] engages to pay all the expense of [illegible] a very considerable sum provided [illegible] church observes certain clauses, and [illegible] church must observe the [illegible]

[illegible] treaty with the church [illegible] The [illegible] takes [illegible] the [illegible] apparent that separation [illegible] in America is [illegible] "as the [illegible] says "would be [illegible]"

THE WORLD'S FOOD

The Agricultural Hall [illegible] an exhibition of an entirely novel character to which [illegible] the comprehensive name of international food exhibition has been applied. It is a display of the multitudinous food products of Europe, America and Australia, and has been designed [illegible] with a view of bringing under the notice of the English public many varieties of preserved meat, vegetables and fruit [illegible] with the best methods of preparing them for the table. In addition to this there is a large collection of culinary [illegible] the apparatus of the most approved [illegible]. There are altogether 240 exhibitors whose stalls fill the whole of the hall, and as these are not only interesting in themselves but are arranged for the most part with much taste, a striking and picturesque effect is obtained. In tinned products the London Times says that America naturally takes the lead. The exhibition teems with her preserved meats, fish, fruits and vegetables. Australia is poorly represented, having nothing to show but familiar beef and mutton tins; but this unfortunate circumstance is accounted for by the fact that this exhibition was thought of only a few months ago, and that Australian producers consequently have had no time to put in an appearance. The variety of tinned products is amazing. One firm exhibits as many as two hundred sorts. The exhibition was formally inaugurated by a luncheon to which about fifty or sixty gentlemen interested in the food question were invited. The menu was entirely composed of preserved provisions, and with the exception of some of the vegetables, which seemed lacking in flavor, and the tinned beef, which apparently no gravies, however cunningly devised, can effectually disguise, was a remarkable success. Many canned articles from our Pacific states have a place in this remarkable exhibition.

As a means of exposing the Barnum-Philp-Morey forgery, the New York Herald of Oct 28, publishes a fac simile of a genuine letter written by General Garfield. Besides its comments on minute points of the forgery, the Herald gave a leading editorial in which it treated the exposure of the forgery as overwhelming, saying: "The public will now turn curiously, and we fancy contemptuously also, to those swift witnesses, Mr A. S. Hewitt, Speaker Randall and others, who made haste to declare that they knew General Garfield's handwriting, and that they had not a doubt that he had written this letter. Mr Hewitt solemnly declared in a public speech that he was sure the letter was genuine, and added, 'If I thought after examination there was the slightest doubt of its authenticity I would not refer to it.' We suppose—such is the length to which partisan fury is carrying men in these days—that Mr Hewitt will remain of the same mind—until after the election, when he and a multitude of other politicians of both parties will take a bath, put on clean linen and resume the conduct and tone of mind natural to gentlemen."

"The shadow of empire is upon us," gloomily remarks the average democrat as he meets his acquaintance on the street. "We are drifting into Cæsarism," he sighs,—and then in a burst of petulance he ejaculates, "and I am for Cæsar and empire!" Let us reflect that this great disappointment is yet only a week old. Time will work wonders with it. To argue with it now would be as useless as to try to pluck out the memory of a rooted sorrow. These things must take the course of nature. And so, as Ancient Pistol would phrase it, "Let sighs exhale and let tears flow therefore."

John Kelly evidently doesn't believe that a visitor at Gramercy Park would find the bar'l draped with crape just now. Perhaps indeed it is not a bad suggestion that S. J. T. may now be enjoying the serene satisfaction of having it proven that he was able to make a much stronger fight than the man for whom he was set aside. Such a thought to one situated as the sage of the clippers is at this time would not be entirely unnatural until human nature should desert the human breast.

Who killed Hancock-Robin? The Tilden followers say it was Kelly. The Kelly followers say it was Tilden. In his evening organ Kelly "hurls back" the charges of perfidy. He and his friends were sound on the goose, he says, but Tilden and his friends acted badly. But neither of them need make any confessions, if having done it with his little hatchet. It was the great American people who killed Hancock-Robin, and they did it with their little ballots.

"There were great frauds in New York," the democracy now exclaim in chorus. Who would deny a balm to hurt minds? Still, however, it must be said that the main evidence of fraud in New York is in the still enormous democratic majority, amounting to 42,000—which was thrown in that city. True the majority is not so big as Boss Tweed and Sammy Tilden made it, but it is still too big to be an honest one.

The republicans get several congressmen in the south, and several others who were clearly elected but counted out, will doubtless be awarded their seats. Chalmers, for instance, of the shoe-string district of Mississippi, who has been "elected" by throwing out 2900 republican votes, may as well get ready to take a back seat.

The easiest way for Barnum to get Philp and his other tools out of the difficulty he has got them into would be to take the stand himself and swear that he is H. L. Morey and the Employers' Union of Lynn, Mass. The probability of the thing would commend it to universal acceptance.

Wade Hampton to his democratic brethren in the north: "You are all liars, and you knew you were lying to me when you said that if I would give you the 138 votes of the solid south you would furnish the rest. My address is Columbia, South Carolina."

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

To the People of the Great Northwest.

WE WISH TO CALL YOUR ATTENTION TO A few facts and ask your careful consideration of the same.

First—That nearly nine-tenths of the people on this coast are afflicted with CATARRH in one or more of its various forms, many of whom are not aware of the origin of their sufferings, and consequently, in spite of all they are able to do, continue to suffer.

Second—That the accepted theory of the disease—that it is simply a local inflammation of the mucous membrane lining of the nasal passages produced by a cold—as advocated by most practising physicians is erroneous in the extreme, else why do they not cure so simple a disease, which is merely the result of a cold?

Third—That Catarrh is not simply LOCAL but CONSTITUTIONAL also, being of scrofulous origin, hence capable of transmission to offspring, which accounts in part for its rapid increase.

Fourth—That vaccination is one of the prime causes of all scrofulous diseases, of which that form known as CATARRH is most prevalent.

Fifth—That without the proper CONSTITUTIONAL treatment, all LOCAL means must prove futile, why then longer continue the use of Snuffs, Douches, Inhalents, etc.?

Sixth—That we have made the above facts a life study, having been a great sufferer ourselves from this worst of curses, until CURED BY OUR OWN REMEDY, and are fully warranted in the assertion that they are FACTS, having for more than twelve years based our treatment of that loathsome disease CATARRH upon the above principles with the very best of success. So anxious were we to find a remedy that was specific for the cure of this disease that we have tested at different times in our practice most of the remedies now in use, and found that they were gotten up upon theory and not on actual knowledge of the disease. Having become fully convinced that our theory of the disease is correct, and that when directions are strictly followed

OUR REMEDY IS SPECIFIC,

We have decided to place our SURE CURE FOR CATARRH in the hands of druggists throughout the great northwest, at the very nominal price of ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE. Already thirty druggists have ordered, and the SURE CURE has been sent them—some the second and third lots since August 15th. Nine of the leading druggists of Portland have it in stock, the well known and reliable firm of Hodge, Davis & Co. are wholesale agents. Were it not that the Remedy possesses intrinsic merit, such a widespread demand and sale could not be effected in so short a time. The fact is that during our three years practice in Portland we have fully established the reputation of DR. JAMES KECK'S SURE CURE FOR CATARRH.

We would caution you from purchasing—for the same as Dr. Keck's—any Catarrh Remedy which has not the autograph signature "JAMES KECK, M. D." upon each package, as some having other remedies on hand of which they wish to dispose are representing them to be the same as Dr. Keck's, of course if ours were WORTHLESS they would not be compelled to resort to this unprincipled means to effect sales of inferior preparations.

Remember also that we make a SPECIALTY of the treatment of diseases of WOMEN.

Very respectfully yours,

DR. JAMES KECK,

135 First Street, Portland.

PATRONIZE

HOME INDUSTRIES!

PIONEER

White Lead.

REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE PREFERRED TO ALL OTHERS.

First—It is STRICTLY PURE. It is WHITER, is FINER GROUND, is FRESH, has BETTER COVERING POWER, is MORE DURABLE and is LOWER PRICED than any foreign or imported brands.

The IMPORTED LEADS are OLD are DRY and HARD, COVERED WITH SKINS. The OIL is SOAKED INTO THE WOOD, and a very LARGE QUANTITY OF OIL, which is HIGHER COST than the Lead, MUST BE ADDED to make them fit for use, and thus making it cost, at even market prices, at least 10 per cent more than the PIONEER.

Second—The PIONEER LEAD is strictly a HOME MANUFACTURE. EVERY DOLLAR SPENT IN ITS MANUFACTURE IS DISTRIBUTED ON THIS COAST to the MINERS, SMELTERS and REFINERS, MECHANICS, FARMERS AND LABORERS.

The LEAD ORE is mined on this coast.

The PIG LEAD is smelted and refined on this coast.

The POTS, MACHINERY and other appliances are made on this coast.

The MECHANICS and LABORERS are our own population.

The SEED from which the OIL is extracted is GROWN on this coast.

The OIL is MANUFACTURED on this coast by the PACIFIC OIL WORKS, and of a quality superior to any made elsewhere. GUARANTEED PURE and FREE from ADULTERATION with cotton seed, mustard seed and Fish Oil, SO COMMON with ALL THE EASTERN OILS IMPORTED.

The manufacture of the PIONEER WHITE LEAD EMPLOYS constantly ONE HUNDRED MEN.

The manufacture of the Oil by the PACIFIC OIL WORKS EMPLOYS constantly FIFTY MEN.

THE MINING, SMELTING, REFINING, FOUNDRIES, MACHINE & IRON WORKS, POTTERIES, FARMERS and other dependencies, EMPLOY, in addition, an ARMY OF MEN, all CONSUMERS, contributing to each other's welfare.

The FOREIGN or IMPORTED BRANDS of Lead and Oil CONTRIBUTE NOTHING to the WELFARE or PROSPERITY of THIS COMMUNITY; on the contrary, the PATRONAGE OF THEM results in the RETIREMENT from the State of YOUR CAPITAL and DEPRIVES THE MANY classes aforementioned of SUPPORT.

Every dollar spent for HOME MANUFACTURES, and one so essentially a home manufacture as the PIONEER WHITE LEAD, ADDS to the DEVELOPMENT and WEALTH of the COAST, and is a PUBLIC GOOD.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. John Myers, of Oregon City, has been rather active in politics for a good many years. A few days ago there appeared in THE OREGONIAN a paragraph or two prepared more with a view to ridiculing his political pretensions than anything else. Part of it he seems to construe as an unwarrantable reference to his business and as likely to affect his business standing. We think he takes the matter too much to heart. Mr. Myers is known everywhere to be "solid" enough. The jokes of his neighbors may be a little annoying, but they will do him no injury. Though always a strong partisan, Mr. Myers is a good citizen and substantial business man. He has held office a good deal and has been a recognized head of his party in his county for a great many years, where he takes the lead in all local party matters. It was this that justified the reference to him. In speaking of his "laying in another barrel of sugar" it was not meant to imply that he couldn't lay in a thousand barrels if he wanted to. In other words, his business standing is as good as the political fortunes of the party of which he is a pillar are weak. It might be added that Mr. Myers disclaims having met Gen. Hancock and having received assurances from him on the Chinese question. But events over which neither Gen. Hancock nor Mr. Myers have any control have rendered that a matter of no consequence now.

AMUSEMENTS.

PROF. TAYLOR.—Another crowded house witnessed the performance last evening at New Market Theater. The most interesting and attractive feature of the entertainment was the wonderful Turkish box mystery. This was an inexplicable performance to the large audience—one which could not be explained. To see Prof. Taylor perform this marvellous feat in magic is alone worth the price of admission. In the course of the evening, a number of other new tricks were performed in the professor's usual deft and skillful manner. He was assisted by Mlle La Grande. At the close of the performance a number of handsome and valuable prizes were distributed among the audience. The leading prize was $25 in coin which was awarded the lucky holder of the winning number. This evening there will be an entire change of programme.

All dresses for little girls are now made high in the neck.

The fashion of [illegible] is returning in Paris.

Long pins of jet, shell or gold and [illegible] are worn in the hair.

Silk handkerchiefs should be washed with borax in tepid water with little or no soap, and ironed before becoming dry.

The Russia cases for scent bottles come with glass tops this season, as they did last, and are generally lined with scarlet, although sometimes blue or gold is used.

Etching is used now for menu cards, and this strong and characteristic style of drawing admits of effects which are quaint, piquant and even grotesque, without becoming vulgar.

Affectionate husbands who think of presenting their wives with Christmas gifts will be glad to know that cream-colored satin embroidered in amber beads of two shades, costs only $50 a yard.

Gentlemen's visiting cards are growing smaller, though always considerably less in size than those used by ladies. Both are unglazed, and engraved in plain script, without flourishes of any description.

Among the latest caprices in breastpins are rustic bars forming a fence broken by a gate, through which or upon which is crawling a mouse or rat. Or behind the bars, with his snout forced through, stands a pig.

French fashion journals assert that of late years all the eccentric styles of dress brought out in France have been planned to satisfy the tastes of the women of other countries, especially the Russians and Americans.

The new packs of cards that De la Rue has sent over have backs in a cashmere pattern with that blending of color which just now is the rage. The cases which hold them are in green and red lacquer, with the cat tail of contemporary waving gently in one corner.

The old-fashioned albums in which one writes a sentiment or a quotation have been revived in England, along with other old-fashioned things, and are now produced with all the old extravagance of colored paper and pretty pictures and engravings.

English women have the most extraordinary ideas of dress. At a concert recently at Brighton, England, a young woman appeared dressed like a gigantic child, wearing a short, very short, loose frock without a waist, with an extremely wide bright yellow sash. What a looking guy she must have been!

The corruptions of the English language introduced from this country into Great Britain keep all the purists of that land with handkerchiefs at their eyes to wipe away their tears. Lately the London Queen had an editorial in which some one was spoken of as "right smart." This is very, very sad.

In the making of scrapbooks and albums our English cousins rather surpass in sumptuousness of anything which American binders attempt, and they put up their wares in cases and boxes so attractive that the custom house officers charge duty even on the rough pasteboard which is outside all the other wrappings.

As the time of year is approaching for dressing dolls, a novelty in this line may be mentioned in the costume of a Bethlehem peasant girl, a long, loose blue robe fastened at the waist by a scarf of white and crimson, and with the front of the waist embroidered in scarlet. A round black cap and a white linen veil complete the dress.

Diaries having locked clasps with two keys, one for a wife, the other for her husband, indicate the English view of a wife's right to keep her thoughts to herself. But it is suggested by a shrewd person that an American wife who receives one of those diaries for a gift will speedily lose her key and borrow her husband's which he will never see again.

A large proportion of the most fashionable menu cards, exquisitely painted and full of surprises, is the work of a young lady, who, brought up to regard herself as the heiress of a great fortune, has been obliged, by the failure of her father, to earn her bread. She is paid sometimes, it is said, as much as a hundred dollars a week for her work.

The pretty little work-cases in Russia of last year have companions this year in the shape of little wicker hampers lined with blue satin and furnished with scissors, bodkin and thimble, and the pocket inkstand of former years is replaced by an inkstand that cannot leak, inasmuch as it has an outer case which makes it impossible for it to open unawares.

Brussels lace veils are pretty and becoming, but expensive, as they can be worn with a bridal toilet only, and are, consequently, useless after the wedding. The veils are replaced by large scarfs of English point lace, Alencon, point a Paignillo, or plain applique, which can be draped in many ways on other toilets, either to form court mantles or to throw over the shoulders with low-necked dress.

We have to thank Spain, it is said, for the red and yellow that blazed on all the summer bonnets, and now she has kindly furnished something that banishes the little pig from Paris jewelry, in the shape of the Golden Fleece pendant, the ribbon and decoration of which, by the way, were laid upon the salver on which King Alfonso presented his little daughter to the grandees of the realm.

The dressmakers seem to be striving hard after a flounce or some kind of skirt trimmed that cannot be brushed nor cleaned in any other way, and which will take endless time to make. The last complication that they produced has flat double plaits with seven narrow plaits between each pair of them. The flounce is faced, and turn up on each plait to show the facing, and the plaits are drawn together at the bottom by four rows of gatherings.

THEATRICAL AND OPERATIC.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Robson and Crane appeared at the Standard theater to-night in "Sharps and Flats," to a packed house and with much enthusiasm, and [illegible] a good run.

[illegible] made her debut to-night, before a fashionable audience. At least 400 persons were present. Her appearance [illegible] was the signal for prolonged and enthusiastic applause [illegible] and as her splendid [illegible] the entire audience [illegible] to the end of the performance. The interest was intense, and [illegible] and [illegible] designs were presented after the fourth act. [illegible] occupied Manager Abbey's box. Among the distinguished people present were Senator [illegible] and Roscoe Conkling. The theatrical profession was [illegible] represented. Abbey's Park Theatre [illegible] in honor of the occasion. The street in front of the theater was illuminated by electric lights. The success is assured. After the performance a grand serenade was given Mlle Bernhardt by the Gilmore Band of [illegible] pieces.

[illegible], Nov. 8.—Marie Roze appeared in the English version of "Aida" at Globe Theater to-night, being the first time this opera has been given in English. Her performance was received with much enthusiasm by a critical audience.

A STATEMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Now that the campaign is over [illegible] and bitterness arising from it [illegible] a duty to myself to call attention to several not very complimentary allusions to myself and my place of business in [illegible] by the Daily Standard [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] taking place, but the Standard [illegible] better and see what exists only in its own fervid imagination. Is it possible that the sight of so many empty democratic whisky flasks [illegible] his speculative ideas. There is not a particle of truth in this allegation, and I may say with a certain rather illiterate senator from Missouri, I deny the allegation and I defy the alligator.

I am also called a republican capper. Well, what then? I worked honestly and faithfully for my party. If that constitutes a "capper," then I am willing to be one and glory in the name. Respectfully,

[illegible]

Why should we strive [illegible] Nature [illegible] rest

[illegible]

A VERIFIED PREDICTION

The Hancock Boom in August and November

[illegible] 1880]

[illegible] the jour[illegible] reached [illegible] 21 [illegible]

We all remember the pr[illegible] at Ch[illegible] over can[illegible] and the final s[illegible] of General Garfield [illegible] distinguished associate General Arthur. It is [illegible] that [illegible] wave of enthusiasm that was spread over the country. But there had been [illegible] nominations where personal defeats had been so great as to take away all spontaneous enthusiasm. It was notable when Wm H Seward was defeated in the convention of 1860 and the plain rail splitter of the west came to the front for favor. A hurrah over a nomination is not particularly a sign of success. There are deep and still waters in political ways as well as surf and [illegible]

Following the lull market after Chicago the people waited for Cincinnati and the democratic gathering there finished its work and then went up the shouts and the [illegible] and the heavy muttering of a Hancock boom. It was only a short way back and it is all fresh in mind. The Hartford Times was wild, and there were many timid republican newspaper preachers. The democrats were very jubilant. But the Post which has lived a quarter of a century had heard the bugle blasts of the Times before and listened to the sweet music of its innocent warblings in other contests, and knew there was no occasion for alarm. And it had watched many campaigns closely before. It had an idea of the great confidence of the whigs over Winfield Scott the greatest soldier of the age in 1852 who was nominated against a man unknown by reputation to ninety democrats in a hundred through the country, and was so badly defeated that the whig party died on the spot. It had seen Lincoln's triumph in 1860 and in 1864 had looked over the bier as the glorious Little Mac was carried to his rest. In 1868 it saw the great Seymour winning victory after victory—on paper—and in 1872 it had felt the cold embrace of death which Greeley was to give the republican party. These and other experiences had so educated the Post in presidential campaigns that it was not in the slightest disturbed over the Hancock boom, though many [illegible] voters to hold on a little and they would see the sticks of exploded rockets coming down and a different condition of things.

Now we have all waited a spell—barely three weeks—and how do you find it at this point good pilgrim brother? Isn't it time to put up a guide post and point the finger so that it will show where the Hancock boom can be found if there is anything left of it? The highway it is traveling on is not the way where victory lies. Democrats begin to feel it; republicans are rousing into their old enthusiasm and in two months more it will be as plain as day that Garfield and Arthur will be elected.

Soon after Horace Greeley was nominated in 1872 three well known republicans in Connecticut men not easily moved or shaken in their political reckonings, all freely surrendered—Greeley would be elected and Grant defeated. Nothing would stop it. No doubt they were astonished to find the situation warranting a different judgment a few weeks later and were more than surprised to learn at last that Greeley was the worst beaten man in the country. But the best politicians sometimes lose their balance in the temporary and manufactured enthusiasm over a candidate at the start.

We put Hancock to-day in a much worse position than McClellan occupied at the same stage of the canvass in 1864 somewhat better off than Seymour in 1868 and not so well off as Greeley in 1872 for Greeley's defeat was the result of a rout which came a little later in the campaign. But there is no encouraging feature in the Hancock candidacy. It will decline gradually and that decline has begun. Republicans feel it and democrats if they are candid will acknowledge it or at least say they are surprised at the difference in talk among men. One of the plainest men of speech a hard workingman, said a day or two ago, that two weeks before two neighbors workingmen came to him and said they believed Hancock would be elected, and he told them to hold on. Both had since said they were satisfied Garfield would be elected and they knew of many others who had changed their minds. If the defeat of the democratic nominee is not as bad as Greeley's it will come very near it.

The sluggishness with which the wheat trade has moved during the season so far is illustrated by the result of the business done which is summed up shows that the total amount shipped to date on vessels cleared, of this year's harvest, has been 176,107 centals wheat and 25,425 barrels flour. Up to November 8th last year there had been shipped (vessels cleared) 572,210 centals wheat and 20 110 barrels flour. There are now in port and loading 12 148 tons of tonnage at a corresponding date last year there were in port and loading 18,520 tons. Or reducing the flour to its equivalent in wheat the comparison is as follows:

	Centals
Shipped to Nov 8 1879	84 665
Shipped to Nov 8 1880	34 382
Decrease	350,283
	Tons
Tonnage in port Nov 8 1879	18 520
Tonnage in port Nov 8 1880	12 148
Short this year	6,372

This shows a diminution in the volume of business not by any means encouraging, when the fact is taken into consideration that Oregon has a surplus larger by 20 per cent than in 1879. The falling off in the tonnage supply is also a factor to be taken into consideration in the predication of any belief of an increased movement of the cereal hereafter.

There is a considerable quantity of wheat being brought to tide water daily, the aggregate receipts for the forty-eight hours ending at noon to-day being over 8500 centals wheat and 2300 bbls flour.

The receipts here during the month of October were as follows: Willamette valley wheat 216 755 centals do flour 30 677½ bbls. Eastern Oregon wheat 83 774 centals do flour 13 840 bbls or a total reducing the flour to its equivalent in wheat of 434 042 centals.

The market to-day is firm at the figures last given $1 45 but at this price there are no vessels being taken up to load here and but little seems to be doing in San Francisco in the way of charters. The falling off in our direct exports up to this date would indicate that if the surplus is any where near worked off much of it will have to be shipped to San Francisco as it does not now seem probable that enough vessels will come here this season to carry away more than one half of the surplus direct. Tonnage is in excess of the demand on the Atlantic coast and numerous arrivals are noted in San Francisco reports but holders of vessels here or headed this way are still demanding full rates.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit these diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

LIVER PILLS,

Hepatitis or Liver Complaint,

[illegible] SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs increases on pressure, sometimes the pain is in the left side, the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax the head is troubled with pain accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility, he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin, his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR C McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

LANDS,

PEN D'OREILLE DIVISION

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

Is now offering for sale nearly

5,000,000

Acres of its lands in the Pen d'Oreille Division in Eastern Washington which are comprised in the odd numbered sections for forty miles on each side of the railroad as now located from the mouth of Snake River in Washington Territory to Lake Pen d'Oreille in Idaho. These lands of unexcelled fertility and adapted to farming on any scale that may be desired, are offered by the Railroad Company at such prices and terms as cannot fail to induce settlement and cultivation causing a rapid growth in population of the country and increase in value to those who now purchase.

The following Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company, passed November 19th 1879, fixes the cash price of land to actual settlers at two dollars and sixty cents per acre, which it is believed is a lower price than has ever been voluntarily placed upon its lands by any land grant company. This is in fact, cheaper than the settler can purchase the same class of land of the Government under the pre-emption law, for the expense attending the making of final proof and the journey to the land office which he must necessarily make in order to complete his entry, is more than the ten cents per acre added to the government price by the Railroad Company

Resolved, That the Agricultural Lands of the Company west of the Missouri river to Puget Sound shall be offered for sale to actual settlers at Government price of $2 50 per acre with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre to be paid to the Company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting surveying and conveying said land.

This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for town sites or suitable for manufacturing sites nor in regions where water is scarce or [illegible] other natural supply where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large that such water privileges shall not be exclusively held or controlled by any individual nor to the lands required for the use of the Company in connection with the operation of the road.

To persons wishing to purchase on time the remarkably low price of four dollars per acre is given on the following terms: One fourth cash at time of purchase the balance in four equal yearly payments at 7 per cent interest. The above price for time sales is adopted for the present but may be subject to change in the future.

All persons who have filed with the Railroad Company notices of intention to purchase or Western Applications as they are called for lands in this division [illegible] class of lands [illegible] resolution as above given) and who have continued to reside upon or cultivate the land applied for are requested to complete their purchase by making cash payment or time contract for the same. For this purpose application should be made to the Railroad Land Office at Colfax.

Persons who have not made actual settlement or improvements upon land they may have applied for have no right to the first privilege of purchase such lands will be sold to the first applicant. Those persons who have in good faith settled upon and improved the company's land should lose no time in securing the same as after a given time the land is subject to sale to any other person.

The land in this division being now offered for sale no more Settlers Applications will be filed.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast.

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder. He can cure without fail.

Consultation free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

GLAZING TO ORDER.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

YOUNG MEN

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM THE EFFECTS of youthful follies or indiscretion, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

Office Hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 A. M. Consultation free. Thorough examination and advice, $5. Call or address

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING JULY 26 1880

CITY.

BODY FOUND —Some longshoremen yesterday morning saw a human body, in an advanced stage of decomposition, floating in the river just above Greenwich dock and putting out in a boat secured the body and tied it to a pile Coroner Garnold was notified and summoning a jury held an inquest. The body was that of a man about 6 feet 10 inches tall sandy complexioned, short side whiskers and chin beard no moustache, had on gray plaid pants, check flannel shirt and boots with the tops cut off A carpenters rule two feet long and two lead pencils were found in one of the pockets. The deceased was, as near as could be judged, between 38 and 40 years old and had lain in the water from six to ten weeks Nothing was elicited at the inquest which would go to establishing his identity. It is known that the body is not that of Grahamslaw who is supposed to have committed suicide from Ainsworth's dock a few months ago neither does it answer the description of Wm Dowlingson otherwise known as "Big Bill" who was knocked from a scow and drowned near the White House last December

SURVEYING PARTY STARTED —Mr R. A Habersham and party started last night per special steamer for the Hog's Back and will begin a survey of the bay this morning under the direction of Col G L Gillespie U S Engineer The work of surveying will probably occupy ten days. Referring to the change in the channel caused by the recent flood in the Columbia the Astorian of Saturday says Friday morning pilots Capt Hiram C Brown and Capt James Strang accompanied by the light house tender Shubrick left here and visited the Hog's Back and buoyed the present channel as well as they could with the time at their disposal It is understood that the changes which have occurred in the river between Tongue Point and Woody Island are of such a nature that they are likely seriously to obstruct navigation so far as sea going vessels are concerned It is probable that there will be considerable dredging to be done to secure a depth equal to the former ship channel

REPORTED INDICTMENTS —It is reported unofficially that the grand jury of this county before submitting its final report returned an indictment charging Wm H Watkinds with having voted illegally at the last June election We understand that the indictment is based on the fact that several years ago Mr Watkinds pleaded guilty to an assault on S A Clarke at Salem, and was fined for the same The grand jury held that the provision of the constitution which deprives all persons convicted of felonies subject to imprisonment in the penitentiary of the right of suffrage, applies to Mr Watkinds Mr W shortly after trial submitted the question of his right to vote to competent election judges, who decided that he unquestionably had such right, and he has voted without the least objection ever since It is also reported that W Stanley of Salem has been indicted for libel on W H Watkinds.

THE FERRY WAR — Saturday the argument on the writ of review in which the Jefferson-street Ferry Company and the county court are respondents and Knott Bros the plaintiffs, commenced in the state circuit court Knott Bros are represented by H Bingham C B Bellinger and Dolph Bronaugh Dolph & Simon and the respondents by Hill Durham & Thompson J G Chapman and Caples & Mulkey the two latter on the part of the county Most of the time of the court was occupied in listening to the opening address for the plaintiffs by Mr Bingham which occupied several hours J G Chapman followed for the respondents but before the conclusion of his argument the court adjourned until this morning when the case will be continued

"ARGUS" ANSWERED

PORTLAND July 25 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The communication signed "Argus" in your paper of Saturday last needs some attention. The estimate of the Alder street sewer of which Argus speaks is not the measurement of the work by which the contractor [illegible] paid Section six of the general conditions of the contract for the construction of the sewer provides that the work as actually done shall be measured as the work progresses, and the preliminary estimate does not govern the amount of pay as in case of street improvements. The experience in laying the Stark street sewer demonstrated that it was impossible to tell before hand exactly what would be required and since then the specifications have contained the provision alluded to Further, the specifications have allowed three feet in width for the trenches to be necessary and where a contractor [illegible] or cut trenches of less width the inconvenience to himself was compensated by the greater width which the specifications allowed and nothing extra allowed in case it was necessary to cut a greater width The above provisions are not peculiar to the extension of the Alder street sewer but were contained in all contracts since the first pipe sewer was laid in the city The preliminary estimate of the Alder street sewer which is needed in letting sewer contracts so that the prices of different materials, was made by the aid of an extra assistant at the time of the rush of spring work when the surveys and reports for five or six street extensions and three or four street estimates were ordered almost imperatively within one month and it was made without an examination of the locality on the ground If anybody can find any loose figuring on the final estimate or true measurement of the work If it is against the city I will readily pay the damage or if anyone can find any such errors in any of the final measurements of other sewer work measured by me I will do the same And furthermore, I may say that since I became city surveyor the price of laying pipe sewers has been reduced from $3 50 to $1 67 per foot as may be seen from the report on page 41 of the city charter book [illegible] I won't say whether this saving to the property owners was occasioned by [illegible] figuring or by desisting from dumping hundreds of loads of broken stone into the river channel to the detriment thereof or tying the river [illegible] sewers with iron bars and log chains and dumping [illegible] as had been customary

GRAND JURY REPORT.

After Several Weeks' Session that Body Adjourns—Sundry Practical Recommendations Made.

Saturday afternoon after a session continuing through several weeks the grand jury of the state circuit court completed its labors and submitted to Judge Stott the following

REPORT

The grand jury, duly impaneled charged and sworn at and for the current term of said court, do respectfully report

That during our session we have carefully examined and investigated a large number of charges, and have presented indictments or ignored the same as in our judgment has seemed best A considerable number of complaints have been pressed upon our consideration which, owing to the peculiar phraseology of the statutes, we have thought best to ignore and would respectfully suggest that an effort be made at the approaching session of the legislature to have section 513, on page 407 of the criminal code of Oregon and which relates to the crime of abortion made more definite and specific

ABOUT THE COUNTY JAIL

We have visited the public prisons of the county With regard to the county jail we think the sanitary condition of the same bad on account of very imperfect ventilation We think the front door at the west side of the main hall in the jail instead of being a close door as it is should be grated so as to allow a current of air to pass through the hall and extend from the floor to the ceiling We find the county jail to be badly infected with vermin and the mattresses and bedding as well as the clothing of all the prisoners that have been confined for any considerable length of time in a filthy condition but at the same time we are pleased to find the present sheriff and jailor making earnest and we think effective efforts to remedy the evil last referred to

We would recommend that say twelve suits of strong plain serviceable clothing be furnished by the county so that the same may be kept by the jailor and in case of a prisoner being brought to jail for safe keeping whose clothing is filthy or infected with vermin he may be temporarily furnished with a suit of clean clothing and thus avoid the infecting of the jail with vermin and other filth

We find that frequently females are imprisoned in the jail and although there is nominally a separate apartment for female prisoners yet no provisions have been made for female attendance upon them and we think the custom of allowing female prisoners to be [illegible] or [illegible] wholly by the male sex tends to demoralization and we recommend that no jailers should be employed except a married man of respectability and that his wife should also live at the jail and as matron have exclusive control of the management of female prisoners

We would recommend a water closet to be provided in the apartments occupied by the jailer and also one to be constructed for the exclusive use of the female prisoners We find that in the hall known as the prisoners hall a partition of boards is covered with wood We think this unsafe both the safe keeping of the prisoners and also dangerous in case of fire and we recommend that the ceiling of the roof be completed and we recommend that a ceiling of sheet iron should be provided for what is known as the large cell where the same is not ceiled

Inasmuch as the jailor is the only person other than the prisoners that habitually sleeps in the jail and the room occupied by him is lighted only by a common ordinary window leaving the sleeping apartment of the jailor easy of access from the outside we would recommend that all of the windows connected with the jail not so already provided be furnished with stout iron bars so as to prevent the possibility of the jailor being overpowered or means of escape furnished the prisoners from the outside We think the mattresses of the prisoners ought to be removed and refilled with new straw at least every three months and in addition to the suggestions already made by us on that subject we think it would be judicious and economical to employ a reliable watchman to assist in guarding the prisoners and looking after the safety of the county property during the night

We think it highly necessary that a stronger and more secure safe should be furnished the county treasurer sufficiently large that a portion thereof may be used by the sheriff for the safe keeping of such valuables as come into his hands We think telephonic communication should be established between the county jail the police station and the fire department of the city We think that portion of the sleeping cots and bedsteads that are composed of sheet iron ought to be removed as it seems to us the iron so used can easily be manufactured into implements by means of which the escape of prisoners might be effected We believe promiscuous visitation of the jail as it has heretofore been allowed and practiced not only an unreasonable draft upon the time of the jailer but also tends to the demoralization of the discipline of the prison and we recommend that the county court or other proper authority frame a code of rules regulating the hours and times when visits shall be allowed and also to provide that the jailer or sheriff shall be permitted to exercise a reasonable discrimination as to the character of persons allowed to be admitted as visitors at any time The same observations we have herein made with regard to the bad ventilation of the county jail is also applicable to the city jail and we recommend that in the case of both the city and county jail a competent architect be employed by the proper authorities to investigate and suggest a system of ventilation believing as we do that false notions of economy which have prevented the employment of competent architects in this respect has already been productive of a much greater expense than a reasonable outlay for such purpose in the first instance would have been Should it be found that such can be allowed we suggest that a wash room be fitted up in the county jail with bath tub and other means of bathing, so that the prisoners may be kept in cleanliness and thereby save the county expense for medical attendance At the city jail the tank over the water closet and the pipes connected therewith very much need overhauling and repairs

COURTS OF JUSTICE

So far as we have been able to observe the affairs pertaining to the courts of justice in the county are well kept and the laws faithfully observed and administered

[illegible]

We feel like congratulating the citizens upon the [illegible] of order and almost universal prosperity prevailing in the county

Having now performed our duty to the best of our ability we respectfully ask to be discharged
